The reception at the University Club last evening in honor of President Arthur Lyman Dean of the College of Hawaii and Mrs. Dean was one of the largest and most notable social affairs of the season.

Formality under pleasant, intelligent, cordial, even mirthful conditions was what the guests enjoyed and in return they caught the spirit of "Aloha nui" and welcome extended to them by the officers of the University Club and regents of the College of Hawaii.

At the club entrance Mr. E. W. Sutton, Mr. A. Lindsay and Mr. C. R. Hemmaway met the arriving guests, who were escorted to the dressing rooms. Joining the long line which wended its way down the main hall, through the library and finally past the reception committee, Senator and Mrs. A. F. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farrington, Dr. and Mrs. Dean, Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Young, Mr. E. A. Mott-Smith, President A. F. Griffiths, Mr. J. D. Dole and Mrs. A. R. Gurrey, Jr., assisted in the introduction of guests who, passing this gauntlet of hospitality, did indeed enjoy the hearty welcome.

Thus launched the guests scattered to the dining hall for dancing, or in the court between the two makai wings for a social chat.

The music for the dancing was so located that the sound was loud enough for those occupying the floor but soft and distant for those enjoying the promenade on the verandas and in the court.

The lawn of the court made a very pretty natural green carpet. Above pennants of gay colors waved in large numbers between huge trailing hanging baskets of asparagus ferns.

In the banquet hall, where the large, smooth floor reflected the many bright lights circular baskets of maidenhair ferns hung from the ceiling between the lights.

In the library, where the reception committee stood, red carnations contrasted in the pale, amber-yellow glass lamp globes suspended overhead. And above and between it all was an old-fashioned Honolulu table that occurs when so many old-timers turn out—the fathers and mothers of the ones who are now at the head of such institutions as the University Club and College of Hawaii.

Beside the most modernly gowned visitors stood the sweet old-fashioned leaders of 25 years ago. Up-to-date transparent, gauzy and lace, sat shoulder to shoulder with substantial velvets and crocheted laces.

Dr. and Mrs. Dean are here to stay and their work will be a part of the educational history of Hawaii, so finely begun by Dr. and Mrs. John W. Gilmore. It is not here remiss to mention that the Kilohana Art League at a reception given for notable Ohloans had the pleasure of introducing to its members and their guests the first president of the College of Hawaii. With them were Judge and Mrs. S. B. Kingsbury and several others of the Buckeye state.

Visitors Complimented.
Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Steele and Mrs. L. S. Smith of Modesto, California, who spent a fortnight in the islands, were the guests of honor at a prettily appointed dinner on Friday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wall entertained at their Makiki street home. A graceful arrangement of pink begonias and tulips formed an attractive centerpiece for the table and pink shaded candles cast a rosy glow over the cover. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Steele, Mrs. L. S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Blawett, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Dr. Alford Wall, Mr. M. A. Franklin and the host and hostess.

Birthday Party in Manoa.
Howard Benner, celebrating his eighth birthday, was host at a good-time party on Friday afternoon when he invited a score of his boy friends to help him celebrate the event. The boys gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Benner and, after spending the afternoon playing games, were served delightful refreshments. The guests included Donald Young, Gordon Young, John Morse, Grant Morse, Alan Moore, Howard Moore, Jackie Bodrero, Jack Myatt, Dick Gurrey, Warren Bockus, John Gere, Russell Frazier and Harlan and Edwin Benner.

Visitors Return to the Mainland.
Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Steele and their daughter, Mrs. L. S. Smith, who have spent a fortnight in Hawaii, returned to the mainland in the Manoa yesterday afternoon. During their visit here the trio of Modesto society folk took a trip to the volcano and were most enthusiastic over the activity of the crater. During their stay in Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Smith were entertained extensively by Honolulu society folk. Among those who planned delightful affairs for them were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wall and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Baird.

Miss Catherine Benner's Party.
About 30 little girls enjoyed the hospitality at Miss Catherine Benner on Saturday afternoon when the dainty hostess entertained in honor of her 11th birthday. There were many interesting contests in the games that the youngsters played and attractive prizes were carried off by successful contestants. Among those who were present were the Misses Catherine and Grace De Freest, Theone and Adele Lindeman, Eleanor Lyser, Alberta Mooney, Louise Drew, Margaret Say-res, Margaret Belser, Frances Humphreys, Carol and Jean Gartenberg, Irma Tarleton, Gretchen Bierbach, Elizabeth Frazier, Adelaide Ewing and Lydia Bodrero.

A Volcano Party.
During the past week a jolly crowd of young folks were entertained at a volcano party by Miss S. L. Merrill, who is stopping at the Pleasanton hotel. Miss Elizabeth Landon, who is staying with Miss Merrill, was the guest of honor during the week, which was spent at the volcano and touring the island of Hawaii. The party included Miss S. L. Merrill, Miss Elizabeth Landon, Miss Betty Case, Messrs. Jack Horner and Bert Clark and Lieut. William Rose.

Monologist to Give a Recital.
Miss Charlotte Powers, the clever monologist, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William Cameron, for several months, and who, during her stay in the islands, has given a number of clever monologues at several private recitals, is to give a recital in the near future. Those who have heard Miss Powers have been so delighted with her work that they have persuaded her to give the coming recital.

Well Known Author to Visit Honolulu.
Every young man and boy who has read with thrills the "Deerfoot" series and other works of Edward S. Ellis will be delighted to know that the author of the stories is coming to Honolulu. Mr. Ellis is at present in Los Angeles, but he will leave for Honolulu on the 6th of February and will come here to make an extended visit with his son and daughter-in-law, Lieut.-col. and Mrs. Wilmot E. Ellis.

Dinner at Haleiwa.
Prior to the moonlight dance at Haleiwa Saturday evening, Lieut. Philoos was host at an informal dinner at Haleiwa Hotel for Miss S. L. Merrill, Miss Elizabeth Landon, Miss Betty Case and Lieut. Kelley.

Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop was hostess at a series of informal luncheons last week.

Mrs. Howard's Program Announced.
A program of unusual merit has been chosen by Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard, pianist, for her farewell recital to be given on the roof garden of the Young hotel next Tuesday evening. It is announced as follows:

To the Sea From a Wandering Iceberg.....MacDowell
(A. D. 1620; from an Indian lodge, Hexentaur.)

Andante Capriccioso.....David B flat minor Sonata.....Chopin Interval

Chant du Voyageur.....Paderewski
(Minuet, Nocturne, Caprice-Valse.)
Chanson Meditation.....Cottet
Avenstern, Rhapsodie Hungroise No. 2.....Liszt

Owing to an error in print, many people are under the impression that the recital is to be purely invitational. This is incorrect. The seats will go on sale tomorrow (Thursday) morning at the Promotion Committee rooms. Prices: Reserved section, $1.50; unreserved, $1.00.
